Pluralsight Brings Top Technology Experts to NDC London

On Wednesday 13th January, Pluralsight, global leader in online learning for technology professionals, will be bringing over 20 of its top course authors to one of the UK's most influential developer events, NDC London.

LONDON (January 12, 2016) – On Wednesday 13th January, Pluralsight, global leader in online learning for technology professionals, will be bringing over 20 of its top course authors to one of the UK's most influential developer events, NDC London. From the 13th – 15th January, several of Pluralsight's course authors will deliver a number of workshops and presentations on the hottest topics for developers, including AngularJS, cyber security and Agile.

In addition, Pluralsight's authors will be on stand number 9 at the event providing demonstrations of their online courses. Some of the authors who will be delivering presentations include Scott Allen, a published author of Javascript technologies and Troy Hunt, a cyber-security expert.

- Scott Allen – Working with ASP.NET MVC 6, Middleware Tips and Tricks for ASP.NET 5, AngularJS 2.0 Workshop
- Troy Hunt – 50 Shades of AppSec, Making Hacking Child's Play, Hack Yourself First: How to go on the Cyber-Offence

“Developers play an increasingly pivotal role in helping companies gain a competitive edge in the digital world. We're really excited to be involved in this festival celebrating developer innovation, providing them with the opportunity to learn new techniques, frameworks and further improve their skills,” explains Denise Hudson Lawson, Enterprise Learning Architect, EMEA, Pluralsight. “There are some great workshops and presentations planned from our top authors, and visitors will get a taste for how they can use Pluralsight to continuously learn from these experts after the event.”

Pluralsight is a partner to the NDC London event which is taking place at the ICC Suites at ExCeL Arena and will be in the exhibition area for the whole event, from Wednesday 13th January to Friday 15th January.
