

Anita Grantham
Chief People Officer

Anita Grantham is the Chief People Officer of Pluralsight, Inc. (NASDAQ: PS), the leading technology workforce development company that helps companies and people around the world transform with technology. Anita is driven by Pluralsight's mission to democratize technology skills—an unmet need she has seen in companies throughout her career.

If there's one word to describe Anita Grantham's approach to talent management, it's achievement. She has earned an impressive number of career achievements over the years, but is even more dedicated to helping others accomplish their goals. Anita firmly believes that culture is strategy, and she works tirelessly to create a purpose-driven work environment at Pluralsight.

Anita's first job was a position on the executive team at The Jokake Companies, where she shifted between three critical roles in business development, investor relations and human resources. Later as InfusionSoft's VP of Talent, she helped create a work culture recognized by Fortune Magazine as #13 Best Place to Work in America. She excels at making others feel comfortable as they work together.

In her role at Pluralsight, Anita oversees the entire employee journey, from recruiting and acquisition to employee growth and retention. Whether she's negotiating better benefits or helping design workspaces to better serve Pluralsight's teams, Anita loves creating an environment where people can do their best work. In 2020, thanks in part to Anita's leadership, Pluralsight landed on the Fortune 100 Best Companies to Work For list.

Anita is also an entrepreneur. She founded Ampersand, a consultancy that advises executives on how to build world-class HR processes for talent acquisition, learning and organizational development.

She holds a Bachelor of Science degree from the University of Arizona and a Master of Arts in Organizational Management from the University of Phoenix. When Anita's not working on Pluralsight's culture or advising others on talent management, she is focused on building a winning culture at home with her husband, daughters and dog.